

New Independent Chair
for Learning Disability Partnership Board

I am pleased to confirm that Keith Wyatt has been appointed as the new Independent Chair for the Learning Disability Partnership Board.

He has worked alongside people with learning disabilities for over 30 years, in a number of different roles.

Keith is currently a member of the Craven and Harrogate Learning Disability Partnership board and Chair of the Community Lives Task group.

Keith is a dedicated champion of the rights of people with learning disabilities and that they should be seen as experts in their own lives.

Keith is very much looking forward to chairing his first Learning Disability Partnership Board meeting on Tuesday 24th November 2009 at the Mayfield Centre.

Signed
